INSPECTOR BALDWIN

IN CUPID'S ROLE.

Investigation of Japanese Marriage Custom Leads to Alleged Discoveries.

Immigration Commissioner Baldwin has gone into the "Cupid" business. It is all on account of the Japanese way of marrying and giving in marriage.

On the Peking the other day a pretty little Japanese woman arrived and claimed that as she was the wife of a Japanese now here, she was entitled to land. Mr. Baldwin was dubious and investigated.

He sent for the man who claimed to be the husband and asked him how long he had been here. The Jap told him he had been here five years. He was asked when and where he had married the girl, and said in Japan four years ago. He was then asked when he had last seen his wife and he said five years ago when he was in Japan and a year before the marriage took place.

This last declaration threw Baldwin into a cold perspiration. How under the sun a man could not have seen his wife for five years and be married to her for four was more than he could understand.

Japanese arithmetic was not in his line, but Mr. Baldwin was sure somebody was lying. To cinch both the man and the woman he took first one and then the other aside and inquired where they were when the ceremony was performed.

The woman said in Japan, the man said in Hawaii. Mr. Baldwin then knew they were untruthful and was about to refuse the woman permission to land when Interpreter Geo. Gibbs, who has lived in Japan many years, offered an explanation which cleared the inspector's mind and made two sad hearts beat happy as one.

It seems that in Japan it is inconvenient for one of the contracting parties to a marriage to be present at the ceremony his best friend may take the absentee's place and the marriage takes place by proxy. It is just as legal and binding as if both were there.

To make things doubly sure, Mr. Baldwin will have a second ceremony take place in his office next Saturday morning at ten o'clock, and the Japanese rite in all its novelty will be gone through with.

Queen No. 1 in Bad Health.

[From the New Orleans Picayune]

The statement recently made that Liliuokalani, the deposed Queen of Hawaii, was rapidly failing in health, and was going back to Honolulu to die was apparently based on false information, for a Honolulu newspaper notes the arrival on the steamer Australia of an automobile for the use of the former Queen.

Beer Famine Averted.

The town is now safe. The Iroquois arrived last evening with a large shipment of Rainier beer (or Lovejoy & Co. Orders will be promptly filled in the order in which they are received. The threatened beer famine is averted by the timely arrival of this shipment.

Good Medicine for Children

If you have a baby in the house you will wish to know the best way to check any unusual looseness of the bowels, or diarrhoea so common to small children. O. P. M. Holliday, of Deming, Ind., who has an 11-month-old child, says: "Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach. His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water, and he got better at once." For sale of all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Territory.

DESTRUCTION OF BIRDS BY THE PESTIFEROUS MONGOOSE.

Pheasants and Skylarks Rapidly Becoming Extinct on the Charming Hills.

The mongoose didn't like confinement. It snapped at the wires of the trap. A lead pencil thrust between the wires was voraciously seized, to be rent in shivers by the ferret-like animal as it sinuously glided about the cage looking for a place of egress. The mongoose was brought to the close of B. O. Hall & Son by Walter C. Weedor, who is superintending their trapping on Pacific Heights.

"Since the 15th of last month," said Mr. Weedor to a Republican reporter, "I have trapped at least fifty of them on the Heights. I use a coal oil can, the bait being placed on the top or cover. The top is so arranged that when the mongoose steps on it for the bait, the animal is precipitated into the can, the cover remaining to its place. What kind of bait do we use? Bread, meat or almost anything edible. The mongoose is not fastidious in its taste; that is the only good thing that I can say about it."

"When we first took possession of Pacific Heights there were a good many pheasants and skylarks there; now they are nearly extinct and it is too bad. The mongoose is solely responsible for the passing of these desirable birds. The mongoose is particularly destructive on eggs. Birds cannot raise broods when it is about."

"The party who brought the mongoose to these islands claimed that it would destroy the rats. I don't know about that. Out at my place I have seen rats and mongoose playing together. Of the two pests give me the rat, even if it be susceptible to bontonic plague bacilli."

And the mongoose glided sinuously about the cage and tried to get out.
